Commentary

Geopolitical events continued to drive the market in November. As was largely expected, the US mid-term elections at the beginning of the month saw the Democrats win control of House of Representatives, while the Republicans held the Senate. The divided Congress increases the likelihood of legislative gridlock and heightened partisan conflict in 2019. The ongoing trade tensions between the US and China created a risk off environment throughout most of the month, further exacerbated by the impending parliamentary vote in the UK on Brexit: while the European Union and the United Kingdom reached a Brexit withdrawal agreement, investors remained unconvinced the terms of the deal would be approved by Parliament. Markets bounced back the last week of the month after investors interpreted less hawkish comments from the US Federal Reserve Chair as a sign that the interest rate tightening cycle could slow in 2019.

This heightened macro volatility has provoked an extreme de-grossing event in the long/short space: data from Credit Suisse show that balance sheet shrinkage over the last 3-months is inside the first percentile since 2010. This has been inimical to alpha across the industry, with a particularly painful impact on the P&L of holdings in 'crowded' and 'concentrated' positions. Goldman Sachs prime services data show that the drawdown in P&L from long crowded trades in November was comparable to January 2016, when the failure of the Chinese onshore equity circuit breaker caused a ripple of panic and a capitulation in global markets. November was, consequently, the sixth successive month of negative alpha for the fundamental L/S space.

Turning to performance, November was a difficult month for the Fund. The aggressive risk off mode assumed by investors throughout the month resulted in the steepest alpha drawdown for the Fund since 2011. The Fund ended the month down -1.3% net of fees with losses primarily driven by both Specific risk and Style risk. Of the developed books within the Fund, 12 ended the month in negative territory while the remaining 7 were either flat or positive. Gross book contributions to Fund returns ranged from -0.49% to 0.44%. The Fund's top performers this month were Risk Arb and Special Situations. Risk Arb saw a long position in Changyou.com Ltd perform well after it reported positive Q3 earnings, while Special Situations found success with its short names over the month. Losses for the month were concentrated in US Japan, Centre Book, and Industrials. US Japan struggled with its short book, while Centre Book lost money on long positions in B&M European Value and GVC Holdings. Industrials saw a long position in Bombardier decline on investor concerns about the company's financial challenges.

In terms of risk, Barra volatility remained constant at 2.6%. Gross exposures drifted slightly lower over the month, coming in at approximately 281%. Portfolio construction remains tight, with specific risk at 70-80% for most of the month. Market, style and industry constituted less than 25% of the Fund's risk profile over the month.

¹ Represents the combined AUM of all share-classes in the Portfolio ² See prospectus for details ³ Represents the combined AUM of the Strategy. ⁴ Sharpe ratio is a measure of risk-adjusted performance that indicates the level of excess return per unit of risk. It is calculated using the risk-free rate in the appropriate currency over the period analysed. Where an investment has underperformed the risk-free rate, the Sharpe ratio will be negative. As the Sharpe ratio is an absolute measure of risk-adjusted return, negative Sharpe ratios can be misleading and are therefore shown as n/a. ⁵ The length is the peak-to-trough decline.

⁶ Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results. Returns may increase or decrease as a result of currency fluctuations. ⁷ Performance Disclosures: The inception date of the Fund is 27 July 2011. The net returns are calculated net of management fees of 2% per annum and, as applicable, performance fees of 20% of the amount by which the Fund exceeds its relevant hurdle. Please note that some share classes may charge higher management fees. ⁸ When 12 months of performance data is unavailable for a calendar year, partial year to date is shown. ⁹ The organisations and/or financial instruments mentioned are for reference purposes only. The content of this material should not be construed as a recommendation for their purchase or sale. ¹⁰ This attribution refers to the core holdings of the Fund and therefore will not exactly correspond to individual share class returns as performance fees and other class specific fees are not included. ¹¹ Higher level equity exposures are calculated using M&A adjustments. ¹² As a percent of the gross exposure. ¹³ Market value may be different to gross exposure due to the use of derivatives in the fund. Only fully funded positions in the fund would have the same market value as exposure. Fixed Income exposure for an equity fund may include exposures to short maturity government bills for cash management purposes. ¹⁴ The micro dollar market capitalisation is from 0 to $500,000,000.00, the small dollar market capitalisation is from $500,000,000.00 to $2,500,000,000.00, the mid dollar market capitalisation is from $2,500,000,000.00 to $5,000,000,000.00, the large dollar market capitalisation is from $5,000,000,000.00 to $12,500,000,000.00 and the mega dollar market capitalisation is $12,500,000,000 and above. ¹⁵ Historical simulated replay taking current positioning and applying it to the specified 10 business day period. The periods selected are exceptional and results do not reflect typical performance. ¹⁶ The share class in blue in the table above is the reporting share class for the Fund and may be closed to new subscriptions. Performance of other share classes shown may vary. Performance data is shown with income reinvested and does not take into account sales and redemption charges where such costs are applicable.

Risk Glossary

Market Risk: The Fund is subject to normal market fluctuations and the risks associated with investing in international securities markets and therefore the value of your investment and the income from it may rise as well as fall and you may not get back the amount originally invested.

Counterparty Risk: The Fund will be exposed to credit risk on counterparties with which it trades in relation to on-exchange traded instruments such as futures and options and where applicable, 'over-the-counter' ("OTC", "non-exchange") transactions. OTC instruments may also be less liquid and are not afforded the same protections that may apply to participants trading instruments on an organised exchange.

Man GLG European Equity Alternative

Currency Risk: The value of investments designated in another currency may rise and fall due to exchange rate fluctuations. Adverse movements in currency exchange rates may result in a decrease in return and a loss of capital. It may not be possible or practicable to successfully hedge against the currency risk exposure in all circumstances.

Liquidity: The Fund may make investments or hold trading positions in markets that are volatile and which may become illiquid. Timely and cost efficient sale of trading positions can be impaired by decreased trading volume and/or increased price volatility.

Financial Derivatives: The Fund will invest in financial derivative instruments ("FDI") (instruments whose prices are dependent on one or more underlying asset) to achieve its investment objective. The use of FDI involves additional risks such as high sensitivity to price movements of the asset on which it is based. The extensive use of FDI may significantly multiply the gains or losses.

Leverage: The Fund's use of FDI may result in increased leverage which may lead to significant losses.

Emerging Markets: The Fund may invest a significant proportion of its assets in securities with exposure to emerging markets which involve additional risks relating to matters such as the illiquidity of securities and the potentially volatile nature of markets not typically associated with investing in other more established economies or markets.

Single Region/Country: The Fund is a specialist country-specific or geographic regional Fund, the investment carries greater risk than a more internationally diversified portfolio.

Model and Data Risk: The Fund's Investment Manager relies on internally derived qualitative and quantitative trading models and algorithms. These quantitative trading models and algorithms may rely on data that is internally derived or provided by a third party. If a model or algorithm or the data consumed by these models or algorithms prove to be incorrect or incomplete, the Fund may be exposed to potential losses. The calculations and output of a models or algorithm can be impacted by unforeseen market disruptions and/or government or regulatory intervention, leading to potential losses.
